

AUDACIOUS LEADERSHIP

HOW TO LEAD WITH CONVICTION, COURAGE AND CARE

Australian leaders spend millions of dollars and hours every year developing their own capability and that of their teams, yet as a nation are undecided about what really works. Part of the reason is that more people resist standing up and out than those willing to lead with the positive audacity of conviction, courage and care.

Many people look for quick fixes or are guided by what has worked for others in the hope that in turn it will work for them too.

Yet we know it often falls short and is indeed short-sighted.

It is critical for leaders to create their own enduring leadership style, position and purpose – one that will ensure there is no ambiguity about their behaviour, actions or communication.

Participants of this interactive presentation will:

- Be challenged to rethink their definition and understanding of 'Audacious' and convert it from a business negative into a business imperative.
- Go from a well-meaning manager to a proactive visionary and implementer.
- Receive a step by step guide for those who wish to live their legacy and enjoy the rewards it brings themselves, their people and organisations.

This Audacious Leadership practical presentation will enable participants to work on developing their own leadership style, position and purpose.

"We appreciate your flexibility and involvement in our Leadership Conference and the manner in which you developed and delivered your session as we believe it strongly enhanced the professionalism of the event."

PETER WILSON | MD | AUSTRALIAN HUMAN RESOURCES INSTITUTE

Be among those who stand up and out when it comes to Audacious Leadership and be known for your conviction, courage, and care.
